

Power & Leadership

Chapter 9

Monday April 25, 2016

- Power is having the ability to get another individual to do something that you would like done, in the manner that you would like it done

"One of the things about powerful people is they have the ability to make it look easy."

~ ICE-T, Men's Health, Dec. 2005

"The greater the power, the more dangerous the abuse."

~ EDMUND BURKE, speech on the Middlesex Elections, 1771

Which professions come to mind that resemble abuse of power?

- Position

- .

- Personal

- .

Sources of Power

- Reward Power

- .

- Coercive Power

- .

- Legitimate Power

- .

Position Power

- Expert Power

- .

- Referent Power

- .

- Relational Power

- .

Personal Power

- Power can be focused in two dimensions:

- 1.
- 2.
- Concern for both the task and people involved

- Read pages 272-276

- Note on
 - Leadership and Vision
 - Leadership Styles
